

When your heart isn't in it anymore, it's time to move on. That's what I kept thinking 10 years ago, when I made the move from a 25 year career to something new. In fairness to the company, my co-workers and future team members of that company, it was time to move on. My heart wasn't in it.

Outagamie County deserves a leader whose heart is in the job. I have complete faith that Kevin Sturn is that leader. He cares about this community. He has incredible work ethic. He listens. He understands the processes. He will work side by side his department heads, elected officers and municipal leaders, be aware of their issues, and problem solve with them.

He is smart. He is genuine. He is sincere. He will work hard and do what is right for this county and its people. He is the right choice for Outagamie County Executive on April 4th.
